ABSTRACT

Covering each semester between summer 1988 and summer 1989, data are provided on enrollment patterns; morning, afternoon, and evening class sessions; and full-/part-time faculty ratios in the Compton Community College district. The first section of the report provides information pertaining to on- and off-campus enrollments for summer semester 1988 through summer semester 1989. Graphs and accompanying text indicate that 1,396 on-campus students and 594 off-campus students were enrolled in summer 1988, 3,528 on-campus and 974 off-campus students in fall 1988, 3,535 on-campus and 1,093 off-campus students in spring 1989, and 1,716 on-campus and 600 off-campus students in summer 1989. The next section focuses on class sections offered during morning, afternoon, and evening periods between spring 1988 and spring 1989. The final section offers percentage comparisons of full- and part-time faculty during recent semesters, indicating that there were 79 full-time faculty (38%) in spring 1988, 78 (54%) in summer 1988, 81 (34%) in fall 1988, 81 (34%) in spring 1989, and 78 (53%) in summer 1989. 1988 On and Off Campus Enrollment Totals
(Summer 1988)

According to the statistics presented in Graph 1, there were 1,396 students classified as on-campus students for the Summer Semester of 1988. There were 594 students classified as off-campus students for the same semester. (Refer to Graph 1).

Based upon the aforementioned statistics, approximately 70 percent of the summer students registered at Compton Community College were on-campus students. Approximately 30 percent of Compton Community College's summer students were classified as off-campus students. (Refer to Graph 2).

1988 On and Off Campus Enrollment Totals
(Fall 1988)

During the Fall Semester of 1988, there were 3,528 students registered as on-campus students. There were 974 students registered as off-campus students. (Refer to Graph 3).

Approximately 78 percent of the student body for the Fall Semester of 1988 was classified as on-campus students. Approximately 22 percent of the student body was classified as off-campus students. (Refer to Graph 4).

1989 On and Off Campus Enrollment Totals
(Spring 1989)

Graph 5 contains the on and off campus numbers for the Spring Semester of 1989. Graph 6 contains the percentage breakdown for the Spring Semester.

Enrollment statistics indicate that there were 3,535 students enrolled as on-campus students. There were 1,093 students classified as off-campus students. (Refer to Graph 5).

1989 On and Off Campus Enrollment Totals
(Summer 1989)

Graph 7 contains the on and off campus numbers for the 1989 Summer Semester. Graph 8 contains the percentage breakdown for the Summer Semester.

Enrollment statistics indicate that there were 1,716 students enrolled as on-campus students. There were 600 students classified as off-campus students. (Refer to Graph 7).

On-campus students constituted approximately 74 percent of the student body at the College. Off-campus students constituted approximately 26 percent of the student body. (Refer to Graph 8).

Summer Semesters of 1988 and 1989 On and Off Campus Comparisons

When comparing the on-campus statistics for the Summer Semesters of 1988 and 1989, there was a noticeable increase in the number of students constituting on-campus students (1,396 students - Summer Semester of 1988 compared to 1,716 students - Summer Semester of 1989). However, there was only a minor difference between the two Summer Semesters as far as percentages. On-campus students constituted approximately 70 percent during the Summer Semester of 1988 compared to approximately 74 percent of the student body being classified as on-campus students for the Summer Semester of 1989.

When comparing the off-campus statistics for the Summer Semesters of 1988 and 1988, there was no noticeable difference in the total numbers and percentage of students constituting off-campus students. Enrollment statistics indicate that there were 594 students in the Summer Semester of 1988 compared to 600 students in the Summer Semester of 1989. Enrollment statistics also indicated that for the Summer Semester of 1988, approximately 30 percent of the student body could be classified as off-campus students compared to approximately 26 percent for the Summer Semester of 1989.

While there was a very minor increase in the number of students classified as off-campus students when comparing the number of students for the Summer Semester of 1988 to the Summer Semester of 1989, from a percentage standpoint, they constituted a lower percentage when comparing the two semesters. This is primarily due to the sharp numerical increase in the number of students classified as on campus students when comparing the Summer Semester of 1988 to the Summer Semester of 1989.

* The figures for the Summer Semester of 1989 (part-time faculty) are estimates.

Spring Semester of 1988

According to the statistics presented within Graphs 1 and 2, there were 79 faculty members (approximately 38 percent) classified as full-time faculty for the Spring Semester of 1988. There were 128 faculty members (approximately 62 percent) classified as part-time faculty. (Refer to Graphs 1 and 2).

Summer Semester of 1988

During the Summer Semester of 1988, there were 78 faculty members classified as full-time. They constituted approximately 54 percent of the faculty. (Refer to Graphs 3 and 4).

According to the statistics presented within Graphs 3 and 4, there were 67 faculty members (approximately 46 percent) classified as part-time. (Refer to Graphs 3 and 4).

Fall Semester of 1988

Faculty employment statistics indicate that there were 81 faculty members classified as full-time. They constituted approximately 34 percent of the faculty. (Refer to Graphs 5 and 6).

Faculty employment statistics also indicated that there were 157 faculty members classified as part-time. This statistic indicates that approximately 66 percent of the faculty was classified as part-time. (Refer to Graphs 5 and 6).

Spring Semester of 1989

According to the statistics presented within Graphs 7 and 8, there were 81 faculty members (approximately 34 percent) classified as full-time faculty for the Spring Semester of 1989. There were 158 faculty members (approximately 66 percent) classified as part-time faculty. (Refer to Graphs 7 and 8).

Summer Semester of 1989

During the Summer Semester of 1989, there were 78 faculty members (approximately 53 percent) classified as full-time. (Refer to Graphs 9 and 10).

According to the statistics presented within Graphs 9 and 10, there were 68 faculty members (approximately 47 percent) classified as part-time. (Refer to Graphs 9 and 10).

Spring Semester of 1988 - Spring Semester of 1989 Comparisons

When comparing the full-time and part-time faculty statistics for the two semesters, there was a very minor increase in the number of full-time faculty at Compton Community College. However, there was a substantial increase in the number of part-time faculty at the College. (Refer to Graph 11).

From a percentage standpoint, there was a decrease (approximately 5 percent) in the percentage composition of full-time faculty, whereas, there was an increase (approximately 5 percent) in the percentage composition of part-time faculty. These percentage decreases and increases are due to the substantial increase of hired part-time faculty at the College.

Summer Semester of 1988 - Summer Semester of 1989 Comparisons

When comparing the full-time and part-time faculty statistics for the two semesters, there was no substantial change from either a numerical or percentge standpoint. (Refer to Graph 12).
